NEW YEAR FOR YALE

Addition of $1,400,455 to Fund, including $59,000 from Otto Bannard, Republican Nominee for Mayor in New York

New Haven, Oct. 1.—Yale University began its two hundred and ninth year yesterday, with many hundreds of young men registered for work in all departments. The total registration, however, will show a somewhat smaller or academic entering class and a slight decrease in the graduate departments. President Hadley and Dean Rogers greeted the members of the Law School, as is customary, while most of the other departments were opened by the Deans and recitations were begun. In his last report as Treasurer of Yale University before he became United States Treasurer, Lee McClung reviews his administration of Yale's finances. The report shows gross additions to university funds for the fiscal year ended June 30 last of $1,400,455. Contributions are noted to the university endowment and extension fund of $279,458, including a subscription of $50,000 from Otto T. Bannard, '76, Republican nominee for mayor of New York.

Other gifts to funds include boat-house subscriptions of $18,238, and a subscription from Andrew Carnegie for the new swimming pool. The general statement of funds and assets of the university shows an increase for the year from $9,540,218 to $10,835,673. The fund for the year ending June 30 last was $11,132,230. The general expenses account of the university for the year rose from $1,163,698 to $1,240,208. Salaries for instruction rose from $572,359 to $596,692. The loss of interest during the year on a total investment in bonds and stocks of $5,955,290 has amounted to only $5,045.

Cziller's Showing Is Beautiful. The first of the three opening days at Cziller's popular millinery, 705 East Main street, proved to the visitors that the milliner's showing this season is nothing short of beautiful. Noticeably among the gorgeous display of pattern hats are many genuine Parisian creations that add much interest and value to the exhibition. These hats were called from the French style center during Mr. and Mrs. Cziller's recent foreign trip. No one should miss visiting the Cziller establishment today, or to-morrow.

Great Values in Cheerful Credit Clothing.

Buying Fall and winter clothes for yourself and family at the store of Caesar Misch, Inc., not only means that articles of apparel can be had which otherwise might be impossible, but also that your money is bringing you in splendid returns in obtaining good dependable qualities. Walk through the store any day, examine the price tags—the quality of the garment to which they are attached, and you will quickly see the wisdom of purchasing at Caesar Misch's even if buying for cash. But Caesar Misch, Inc., welcomes a customer who wishes to pay by the week or month as readily as the one who buys for cash, and is the meaning of Cheerful Credit. Customers are not even asked for money when the article purchased is taken away. People who wish to add much interest and value to their wardrobe, should figure out how little difference a small weekly or monthly payment would make in their living—in most cases none at all, and then go to Caesar Misch's and see what a stylish, well-made, high-grade stock there is to choose from. Men, women, misses and boys will find the season's latest ideas in suits, overcoats, dresses, millinery and the like, all ready to be tried on—then the quality of the one's appearance tends toward success. You can be successful on Cheerful Credit.

AUTO BEATS TRAIN

"WORTH $25 TO CATCH IT," SAYS OSCAR HAMILTON, PAYING HIS CHAUFFEUR'S FINE.

Stamford, Oct. 1.—Oscar Hamilton of Riverside, a manufacturer of New York, won in a race in an automobile with a west-bound New York, New Haven & Hartford train yesterday. The course was from Cos Cob to New Rochelle. Mr. Hamilton overtook and passed the train and then the New Rochelle police arrested his chauffeur, Lester Hay of this city. The latter was fined $25 by a New Rochelle Justice.

Mr. Hamilton missed the 8:55 train at Cos Cob, and he drove to the Greenwich Station, intending to catch the train there. He drove his powerful car nearly to the limit, but there was a stop, and the train was moving out of Greenwich Station when he arrived. Then he decided to catch the train at New Rochelle. The automobile was rushed toward New Rochelle. Many detours were necessary, and the car covered much more ground than did the New Haven train. When the machine rushed through the streets of New Rochelle people looked after it in wonder, and a policeman who saw it shouted things that did not reach the ears of the driver.

The car was standing in the New Rochelle station when the automobile dashed up. Without waiting for the car to stop, Mr. Hamilton gave the wheel to his chauffeur, leaped out, and did a fifty-yard sprint that brought him to the train just as it was starting.

Meantime the New Rochelle police were taking measures, and when Hay appeared on the Post Road again bound back to Cos Cob a motorcycle was on his trail. The policeman ran alongside between New Rochelle and Larchmont and placed him under arrest. The policeman said the car had exceeded the New Rochelle speed limit by about twenty-five miles an hour. Hamilton paid the fine later, remarking as he signed the check, "It was worth $25 to catch that train."

Hamilton is a cousin of John H. Tyson, the young motorist who has been in many accidents.

Bicycle Policeman Gets Honorable Mention by Police Board.

Saves Life of Lad—Matters Discussed by Police Board.

Commissioner James H. Kershaw at the meeting of the Police Commission last night offered a resolution of thanks to Bicycle Policeman O'Neil for his bravery in rescuing Joe Schisneck, aged 8 years, of Lindley street, from drowning in the muck and water of Berkshire pond, August 28. The policeman dove into the pond as the child was going down for the last time and rescued him. The resolution was passed unanimously. Commissioner Coughlin said policemen should be commended for especially good work since there was no hesitancy in criticizing them for their mistakes. The awarding of medals to heroic patrolmen was suggested.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to Policeman O'Neil and the action of the board in regard to appreciating his work will be recorded upon the roster card of the courageous patrolman. The facts of the rescue have been sent to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, but no reply has been received up to date.

President Hill and Judge Coughlin were appointed a committee to investigate and report upon a communication from the Bikur Cholim congregation which has a synagogue on the land adjoining the Second Precinct station, asking that the city exchange a few feet of the land belonging to the station for several feet of the property belonging to the synagogue.

The Bridgeport Automobile Co. notified the board that it would store the auto-patrol for $7.50 a month. This is "dead storage," not including the washing of the car. Until Mayor Lee returns from his vacation nothing can be done about erecting a garage in the rear of police headquarters, and until one is erected it is probable that the garage of the Bridgeport Automobile company will be used.

John Shequin was appointed a special policeman. He is employed at the Hartmann Brewery and lives at 68 East Main street. He was formerly a special policeman but resigned on account of ill health.

H. A. Williams, janitor of the Surety building resigned from the special police force, stating that he was about to leave the city.

Clerk Smith was ordered to get the badge from Special Policeman O. E. Schreiber who has lost his job as a clerk at the Ashcroft Manufacturing Co., and has therefore no need for a shield.

The board ordered a communication sent to the city treasurer requesting that he report to the board the present condition of the Police Pension fund.

Third Arrest in Cadet System Case

New Haven, Oct. 1.—A third arrest in connection with the case of Josephine Blotz, the girl who was brought in for lascivious carriage a few days ago and who is considered by the police to have been the victim of the so-called cadet system, has been made and the man arrested is now held in Brooklyn under bail of $100 and will probably be brought to this city soon. Word was obtained by the detective bureau that this man was in Brooklyn, and one of the members of the detective bureau went to Brooklyn yesterday and secured the arrest of the man. His name, it is stated, is Gulsis, and the charge against him is said to be a serious one.

Still Far to Dig To Recover Bodies

New Haven, Oct. 1.—Coroner Mix states that he has not taken any testimony in regard to the cave-in on the work of laying the new water pipes out to Maltby lake but he expects to resume his work on the case to-day. The work of digging for the bodies of the four men who were buried in the cave-in was continued today. The men have now reached the entrance to the tunnel and also removed about 45 feet of earth in the shaft but have still about 100 feet to cover which will take a couple of days yet.

To-morrow, Saturday will be an unusual bargain day at E. H. Don & Co., 1105 Main street. They will offer extraordinary values, in fall and winter millinery, shirt waists, petticoats, feather boas, suits, coats, capes, raincoats and separate skirts.
